Weekend torrents bring second East Pearl crest

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County residents along the East Pearl River are braced for a second flood crest in as many weeks today as a direct result of torrential rains which fell in Mississippi and Louisiana last weekend.

A BIG SPLASH-A pickup truck hits a flooded section of US-90 in Waveland Sunday afternoon as water covers the highway's east bound lane. The motel's sign helpfully advises of a "large" pool. The U.S. Forestry Tower at Rocky Hill, North Hancock County, reported 9.69 inches of rain all day Saturday and

Sunday morning. Total rain fall for the area is normally 60 inches a year. The month of March showed a total of 14.68 inches, and on April 14 a total of 14.48 inches were registered at the forestry tower. The six-weeks total of 29.06 inches has the County super saturated. Supervisors seek storm aid for Hancock County

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors met in a 9 a.m. Monday emergency session and voted to draft a resolution asking Gov. William Winter to declare the county a disaster area.

Board Attorney Walter Gex informed the supervisors, "You must draft a resolution requesting that the county be designated a disaster area and cite specific beat by beat descriptions of damages."

"The resolution should include things like the flooding on the Pearl and Jourdan Rivers, Stennis International Airport damage, all road washouts, the trailer destroyed at Port Bienville Industrial Park and the houses damaged in Jourdan River Shores," Gex explained.

The supervisors could not gather a complete list of damages from each district by the end of the emergency meeting, so the board asked its attorney to draft a resolution as soon as a complete list of damages was available.

Beat One Supervisor Bert Courrige said at noon Tuesday, "We didn't have any big washouts, but our big concern is the Pearlington area."

"I did ask for the beach road in Beat One be included in the resolution because it had further damage from high tides and heavy rain," The Beat One supervisor stated.

The beach road has been approved for federal funds, but we have not gotten any of those funds and additional damage has occurred on the road since the recent funding approval," Courrige added.

Board Secretary James Pfeiffer said Tuesday Beats Two and Three were the only districts which had completed a damage assessment list.

Beat Two Supervisor and Board President A. A. (Dolph) Kellar lists three bridges and six roads in his district he feels qualify for emergency funds.

The three Beat Two bridges are the Catahoula Bridge on the Ceasar-Necaise Road; the White Cypress Bridge; and the Wolf Branch Bridge on Texas Flat Road.

The six Beat Two roads are Junior Spiers, Pitkin, Lamar Lee, Ned Bonds, Bayou Lacroix and Jones Roads.

Menge & I-10 ?

Westinghouse facility likely

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Westinghouse Corp. reportedly holds an option to purchase a 100-acre tract at the corner of Menge Avenue and I-10 north of Pass Christian to construct a manufacturing branch of its architectural services division.

Company spokesmen and local officials, however, this week hedged on admission of an actual purchase of land by the corporation.

Curtis and Davis Architects in New Orleans are said to be designing the new plant, but would not comment and referred all questions to Pat McGinnis,

US-90 ACCIDENT-Mobile Medic ambulance personnel lift Marjorie Lamb, 22, of Pearlington onto a stretcher after she was injured in a two-car collision Sunday at Waveland Avenue and US-90. A spokesman for Slidell Memorial Hospital said Wednesday Mrs. Lamb is in "stable" condition. Dr. Charles Krueger of Slidell reports Ms. Lamb suffered a fractured pelvis and fractured hip joint and facial lacerations in the accident. She was a passenger in a compact vehicle driven by her husband, Shannon W. Lamb, also of Pearlington. Driver of the other car, Ms. Patricia Lewis of Pass Christian, was cited with failure to yield right-of-way after making a left turn from the eastbound lanes of US-90 into the path of the westbound Lamb vehicle, Waveland police reported. Ms. Lewis was treated for minor injuries and released Sunday from Hancock General Hospital. Waveland officer Terry Tartavouille investigated the accident. (Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Overheating, fire scuttle shuttle test

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A test firing of the main propulsion system 1:30 p.m. Wednesday was terminated after five seconds due to overheating and a fire in one of the three engines.

Mack Herring, National Aeronautics and Space Administration public affairs officer at the National Space Technology Laboratories said 4 p.m. Wednesday afternoon, "A scheduled 591-second firing of the main propulsion test article, at NSTL today, was automatically terminated after about five seconds when an overtemperature caused the engine in the No. Two position to cut off."

"A small amount of fire was observed in the nozzle of the engine, but test engineers were able to contain the fire with water and no external damage was believed to have occurred," Herring stated.

"Crews are presently inspecting the test article and later today will remove the heat shield to inspect internally," the public affairs officer reported.

"Inspections are expected to take at least 24-hours to determine the cause of the cutoff," Herring added.

Christine Duncan, Marshall Space Flight Center public information specialist, in Huntsville, Ala., also said Wednesday afternoon, "The overheating problem and fire will not delay the shuttle program, but the testing program will have a three-week delay."

"All tests on the shuttle engines will be completed before this year's November launch date," Duncan stated.

"We have undergone three successful test firings with the engines at NSTL," Duncan reported.

"The Huntsville center is responsible for development and testing of these engines," Duncan added.

Bay board oks new Policy 18

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board moved one step closer to a reported out-of-court settlement of a $20,000 damage suit filed against it last year as the board Monday revealed it had revised a controversial policy during a secret "special meeting" March 28.

A revision of the board's Policy 18, which establishes a "chain-of-command" to be followed by parents and teachers attempting to gain access to the board, allows "citizen, teacher, and parent organizations to address the board."

The revised policy was revealed

HNC youth killed during gym class

By RICH ADAMS

Hancock County Coroner Carl Banderet said Wednesday a third-grader at Hancock North Central died Monday of respiratory attack and hemorrhaging at the base of the brain after being struck on the left side of the neck with a softball bat during physical education class at the school.

James Moore, 9, a resident of the Caesar Community in Hancock County, was pronounced dead on arrival at Picayune's Crosby Memorial Hospital Monday after being involved in the apparent accident at Hancock North Central, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson.

An autopsy conducted Tuesday by Dr. John Rutherford of Bay St. Louis revealed the child suffered a "respiratory attack and a fossa hemorrhage at the base of the skull," Banderet said Wednesday afternoon.

Sheriff's investigators were summoned to the school at 10:15 a.m. Monday. Mobile Medic arrived on the scene and rushed the child to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

"We definitely feel the injury was an accident. We feel no foul play was involved," the sheriff said.

Hancock County Superintendent Billy D. Sills said the physical education class was under the supervision of a qualified instructor when the mishap occurred.

Funeral services for the youth were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Union Baptist Church in the Caesar Community, followed by burial in the Caesar Cemetery.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore Sr. of Route 3, Picayune; three brothers, George E. Moore Jr., Roy Moore, and Brian Moore, all of Hancock County; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore of New Orleans and Mrs. Marion Gilchrist of Jasper, Texas.

McDonald Funeral Home in Picayune was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Sunday storm ko's 5,000 coast phones

Telephone people from other parts of Mississippi and as far away as Kentucky are being brought in to the Gulf Coast area to help restore service in the aftermath of the Sunday storms.

Franklin Kyle Jr., district manager for South Central Bell, said that the additional technicians would remain on the job until service is restored.

Necessary repair supplies have been made ready as part of the company's storm readiness program, Kyle said.

Other emergency supplies from Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, are on hand.

Equipment and procedures are standardized throughout the Bell System, and repair crews from anywhere in the country can go to work with a minimum of delay, he explained.

A total of over 5,000 telephones were knocked out of service throughout the Gulf Coast District by the storm and damage to telephone facilities amount to over $1 million.

About half the telephones have already been put back in service, and the remaining will be progressively put back in service with complete restoration of those that are restorable expected by the middle of next week.

Major areas affected were west Gulfport from Lewis Avenue east to 20th Avenue on a line diagonally running northeast from the beach to I-10.

Another major area was in the 388 exchange area of Biloxi where two main feeder cables serve the area north of the Bay. The larger of these two, an 1,800 circuit cable, was almost totally lost due to flooding in this area.

The trouble was isolated Sunday night and crews have been working round the clock drying and repairing the damage, Kyle said.

Pascagoula-Moss Point exchange customers were severely affected due to flooding. Scattered service outages exist throughout the area mainly due to tree limb and debris damage.

"Telephone technicians are in the area in addition to our work force, some from as far away as Kentucky," Kyle said.

"Restoration of service has been progressive since right after the storm passed," Kyle said, "and will continue around the clock until all service is restored."

Everything possible is being done to expedite restoration and it is not necessary for individual customers to report their telephones out of order.

"We also wish to express our appreciation for the fine cooperation received Sunday from those subscribers who limited their calls immediately following the storm," Kyle said.

Adapted aquatic instruction slated at MUW April 18-20

Mississippi University for Women and the Mississippi Division of the American Red Cross will co-sponsor an adapted aquatic clinic Friday through Sunday, April 18-20 at the Emma Ody Pohl Physical Education-Assembly Building on the MUW campus.

Sessions will be conducted by Louise Priest, author of the "Adapted Aquatic" text published by the National Red Cross; clinic director Sandy Barto, aquatics specialist for the department of health, physical education and recreation at The W.; Lucy Peck, safety specialist for the Central Division of the American Red Cross and Will Howie, Oxford Division safety consultant for the American Red Cross.

The clinic will include swimming techniques from both the lecture and practical points of view, adapted aquatics instructor authorization and adapted aquatics aide authorization.

Currently certified water safety instructors (WSI's) will have the opportunity to acquire the adapted aquatics instructor certification, while persons who are not certified WSI's, but who can swim, will be able to obtain adapted aquatics aide certification.

The adapted aquatics instructor certification program and the adapted aquatics aide certification program will be limited to 25 and 20, respectively.

In addition, persons who are non-swimmers, but who are interested in working with the handicapped, are invited to observe, Miss Barto explained.

Handicapped persons are invited to serve as workshop volunteers.

Registration for the aquatic clinic will be from 4:30-6:30 p.m. April 18 in the Pohl Physical Education-Assembly Building. Ms. Priest will present the first lecture from 6:45-8:20 p.m., then follow with a lecture film presentation from 8:30-9:45 p.m. on the opening day of the workshop.

Clinic sessions will continue Saturday and Sunday, with rotating lectures, discussions and pool sessions. The clinic will conclude with an oral review Sunday afternoon.

Cost of the workshop is $5. A small fee will be assessed for textbooks. Participants must supply their own towels and swimsuits. Men and women are encouraged to participate.

"We really want to try to inform the public" about aspects of teaching handicapped persons in aquatics, Miss Barto said. "We certainly encourage people who are interested to participate and observe."

For additional information, interested persons should contact Miss Barto at Box W-1400, MUW, Columbus, Miss. 39701.

Legal secretaries elect new officers

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at the regular meeting of Harrison-Hancock Legal Secretaries Association on Thursday, April 10.

Lyne Stewart, presently serving as President, was re-elected for the year 1980-81. Other officers who will be installed at the next meeting are: Elizabeth Mallini, vice-president, Maxine LeBoeuf, secretary, treasurer, Sandra Wedworth, governor, Rita Smith, and NALS representative, Patsy Bishop.

Mrs. Nancy Morse, vice-president and trust officer of Hancock Bank, was the guest speaker.

Mrs. Morse described the many functions and duties of the trust department as it handles estates, conservatorships, guardianships, and various types of trusts.

Kathy Hilt, Brinda Stricklen, Beverly Longino and Judy Gardner were approved as new members.

Twenty-two persons completed the National Association's Course for Legal Secretaries which was offered to the general public by the local chapter. The 36-hour course was instructed by local attorneys and Gini Myers, a member and past president of both the local chapter and state association.

Reports of committee chairmen for the past year were heard and filed.

Frances Favre and M.L. Tootle, co-chairmen for the State Convention to be held at the Best Western Gulfport Inn, May 16, 17 and 18, announced the three-day schedule and appointed additional members to committee duties.

Carver shines on 'Keep America Beautiful Day'

Saturday, April 26th has been designated as "Keep America Beautiful Day" in Hancock County and its two municipalities. The local observance is in conjunction with the national designated of that day by the Keep America Beautiful Day National Committee.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Clean-Up and Beautification Committee has asked members of the County Board of Supervisors to aid in a clean-up of the county by directing work crews to be more conscious of trash and litter accumulations in their respective beats.

Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis and Mayor John Longo of Waveland have also been asked to use as much of their work forces as possible in order to add to the clean-up and beautification effort. They have also been requested to direct their respective police departments to a more concentrated enforcement of the municipal anti-litter ordinances.

The Chamber Committee is also urging the general public to cooperate.

Several things can be done by individuals. First, a survey can be made of the ditches and of the areas surrounding their property or their residences.

All paper, trash, and other litter should be picked up, bagged and set out for pickup.

Should an individual have need of a trash pickup but finds himself at a loss to know how to obtain help, the mayor's office in Bay St. Louis can supply that information.

Warren Carver, the chamber committee chairman, is to be commended for his persistent efforts.

Without the dedication of such men and cooperation of all our citizens, the county and the city would quickly take on the appearance of a massive dump.

We have made great strides in this area recently under Carver's direction, and an extra push by all of us at this time could transform our area into a state of cleanliness of which we could all be justifiably proud.

CONGRESSIONAL MAILBAG

Washington Report

By REP. TRENT LOTT
5th District, Mississippi

The congressional mailbags have been especially heavy over the past few weeks as thousands of South Mississippians responded to my eighth annual questionnaire. I have been pleased with the number of responses received and am now in the process of tabulating them so that I can report to you in June on the outcome.

There was another fact which struck me as I looked over some of the responses and letters which accompanied many of them. I noticed that a number of people said they were writing to their congressman for the first time, expressing a sense of frustration over the economy, bureaucracy, taxes, the direction our country is taking and other concerns.

Their concerns over taxes hit home especially hard earlier this week with the April 15 deadline for filing federal income tax returns. Many people found themselves in higher income tax brackets because of inflation, making them pay more in taxes than in previous years. The tax bite was enormous.

One of the most thoughtful letters I received came from a man in Gulfport whose views basically stated the cumulative effect of most correspondence. He wrote, "People believe that federal spending is the chief cause of inflation. They also have very little hope that the Congress will do anything to seriously reduce this spending because of the potential impact at the polling places."

"There is very little confidence left in the dollar, either at home or abroad," he wrote. "Retired persons are in a near state of panic because of inflation... Government has become a disease all the way from the villages to the nation's Capitol." He also said persons having to deal with the federal government are finding that laws are not being made by Congress but by regulations drafted by the agencies.

"I am literally ashamed of our situation," he wrote. "I suppose we need some kind of Moses to lead us out of our current bondage, even though the pathway may, again, lie through the desert."

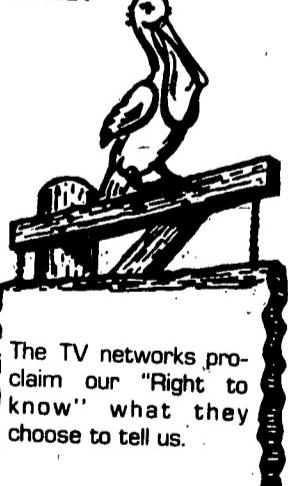

Such letters have a sobering impact on anyone seriously concerned about the state of our nation and, frankly, I agree with most of his observations. The taxes are excessive, and I fear that the Carter administration is trying to balance the federal budget with increased tax receipts, not decreased spending. Bureaucracy is out of control, and despite a 1976 campaign pledge to get government under control, the bureaucracy now has 55,000 more federal employees.

Congress must share the blame. Instead of passing restrictive laws, we should spend more time on oversight, approve "sunset" legislation and the congressional veto.

But the real answer still lies with the American people because Congress is a reflection of those who participate in the election process. And, far too often, a candidate is elected by a relatively small segment of society.

EXTRA SLICK SHOULDERS—We have editorialized on the fact that there were very low shoulders on Highway 603 South of I-10 to US-90. Well some soft slipping low grade clay has now been placed on the low shoulders and two Hancock County Deputies on an errand of mercy in Sunday's wet weather, aiding a stranded motorist fell prey to the soft shoulders by sliding into the ditch. We have as yet to see one highway sign about low or soft shoulders, and this has been a problem for many years. If memory isn't failing us, we can recall other state highway departments placing these signs, and even some in Mississippi on highways when there are low or soft shoulders. Could it be because Hancock County is so close to Louisiana or the Gulf of Mexico, that we are forgotten people? We tried walking with cleated boots on the shoulders of 603 Sunday and were having trouble staying on our feet, just to give you and idea of the very, very dangerous shoulder situation. We hope the State Highway Department will warn motorists of the dangers until such time as the shoulders are properly maintained.

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL — THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

WE HOLD THE KEY
... Applied Christianity in the free world would be the end of communism."

That statement was made in the concluding remarks by a member of the West German Parliament, Dr. Peter Petersen, during the 31st Annual Membership Meeting of the Mississippi Economic Council, the state's largest association of business and professional leadership.

He explained that "this was dramatically demonstrated when the Pope visited Poland..."

"That visit also showed that the American dream is not only American," said Petersen; "it is the basis of life of free men everywhere. And history is made by the hopes and dreams of millions of people around the world. That is why with America, the world will win."

The Mississippi Economic Council concurs with those remarks and urges all citizens to rededicate themselves to the principles of justice, acceptance of responsibility, dedication to moral values, support of the law, and defense of the United States against its enemies — both at home and abroad.

The state, the nation, and the world now face a crossroads — a point where decisions will be made which may alter our lives for years to come and where decisions will affect future generations of Mississippians and Americans.

As a state, we have the capacity and courage to face the problems within our own borders and the nation and help create conditions favorable to proper solutions.

Bits-N-Pieces

By Ellis Cuevas

We appreciate the many calls we had received about the high water throughout our county.

We tried to take as many photos as possible, and still were unable to cover everything because we had some trouble getting around.

With half of our normal yearly rainfall coming in a six-week period and the ground super saturated, there wasn't any place for the water to go, but up.

We saw water in places where it has never been before, and feel that no matter the type of drainage systems in our communities, there would be no way for us not to suffer some type of flooding with the exceptional rains.

We are very fortunate when we consider the damages that took place in Gulfport to our east and in the Slidell-Pearl River area to our west.

Our roads are in terrible shape, our officials all realize this and give indications they are going to try and have them in shape as soon as possible.

We must remember this, we had a total of 14.46 inches of rain for 14 days of April, that is 25 percent of our normal yearly rainfall.

While talking about the storm, we were asked to mention an important item to our readers.

Robert Boudin, Civil Defense director, urges anyone who sustained any type of damage to please call his office and report the amount to him.

Efforts are being made by our supervisors at having our county declared a disaster because of the excessive rains, tornados, and flooding.

The Civil defense office number is 467-9226, so if you had any water or tornado damage call them.

The mystery of the flag at Hancock General Hospital was settled very early last Thursday morning when we received a telephone call from J. W. Page.

He said he donated the flag to the hospital because the one they had was badly weather beaten but hadn't told the hospital administrator it was him as yet when we took the photo.

Page said he had mentioned to the administrator several weeks ago that he was going to give them a new flag.

However, the mystery of the Waveland American Legion Post No. 77 flag is still unsolved.

Congratulations are in order for the fine performance of the Bay High Tiger Band on capturing five superiors and one excellent in the state band contest this week.

There were a lot of happy band members and supporters as they returned home Tuesday evening.

Everyone of you did a fine job.

WWII Glider Pilots Association plans convention

April 11, 1980
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

We are looking for any and all World War II glider pilots in Mississippi, also any tow pilots or glider mechanics are welcome.

There were about 6,000 of us who wore the silver wings with the "G" on them. At this late date we have found about 2,300 and would like to find more.

We are a unique extinct group since there were so few of us and there will be no more of us.

If you were a "GP" or know of one, call their attention to the fact that the 7th Wing covering Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Missouri will hold a Mini-Convention at the Downtowner Motor Inn in Jackson, May 9, 10, and 11.

For reservations, call 601-948-6161. For further information, call or write C.H. Heaberlin Sr., state commander, 1947 Wisteria Drive Jackson, 39204 or phone 601-372-7591.

Urge Congressional action in Iranian situation

April 10, 1980
Letters to the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

If you believe that this is a nation of heroes, that we have suffered enough humiliation; that we have walked the last mile, that we will not be trampled upon, then I entreat, adjure you to petition Congress to enact the following JOINT RESOLUTION to wit:

"BE IT RESOLVED, by the Senate and the House of Representatives, that the President is justified in the employment of the armed forces of the United States to enforce his demand for unequivocal demands for certain affronts and indignities committed against the United States in the matter of the "hostages" by the Islamic Republic of Iran.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the United States disclaims any hostility to the Iranian people or any purpose to make war upon Iran."

This is no Tonkin Bay Resolution. This is a positive call for our lethargic Congress and the Government that we have had enough, it is now time for action.

Commends Mosquito Control for fast work in Waveland

April 13, 1980
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

A Plus for Waveland.

Recently the area I live in was bothered by a noticeable increase in the mosquito population.

So I phoned our alderman, Mr. Louis Smolensky, and informed him of the problem. He assured me that the Mosquito Control People would be glad to correct the situation; and that he would get in touch with them.

A day or two later the fogging machine passed through the neighborhood and the pesky intruders disappeared.

Such prompt and efficient response by the Mosquito Control people is deserving of public notice. Their function is most essential to the health and comfort of the community, and their dedication to service is reassuring.

Yes indeed, they are the GOOD GUYS.

Respectfully,

Hancock Youth Court lists adjudications

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Youth Court held a total of 34 hearings during the month of March, according to a report released this week.

Delinquency was involved in 18 of the hearings, with possession of drugs in five of those cases. Other delinquencies involved three breaking and entering, three larceny, two for burglary and violation of probation and one each for auto theft, forgery, and malicious mischief.

Waveland police leads in the number of referrals with 12, followed by sheriff's office, eight; Welfare Department, six; and Bay police, four cases.

Court personnel were the source for two cases, with one from a parent or guardian source and another listed as other.

The court started with a case load of 188 at the first of March ending with 199 cases as 12 cases were closed but there were 15 new assignments.

The Hancock Youth Court had a total case load of 51 youths on probation, 11 parolees from training schools, four in training school and 133 listed as other.

The other category in case loads was explained as cases under youth court supervision which came from the Welfare Department or other sources but did not warrant a hearing.

Two juveniles were sent to training school during March with two being released and placed on parole.

Michael Haas, Youth Court referee, said the county sends juveniles to both Columbia and Oakley training schools.

In addition to Haas, the youth court has two counselors, one secretary and deputy clerk on the staff.

The court is located at 126 Court Street and is open 8 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Westinghouse.....

manager of Westinghouse's construction purchasing department at company headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa.

McGinnis had no comment Wednesday about any new plant.

The April issue of the monthly Mississippi Business Journal reported, "the company will announce such a new industry (location) possibly later this month."

Perry Wingo, Harrison County Development Commission director, said recently, "There's been a lot of nosing around, but nothing is firm yet. We don't want to do anything to jeopardize any plant that might be interested in locating here."

In response to the Business Journal article which cited Westinghouse as exercising an option on at least a 100-acre tract northwest of Long Beach, Wingo said, "I read the same thing, but I don't know anymore than what was said in the article."

However, Wingo added, "I think we're all going to be happy soon, but I don't have any idea of when something will be announced."

Herman Vavra, public relations spokesman for Westinghouse's Lighting Division in Vicksburg, said, "I don't have any firm information about a plant locating down there, but I did hear that the architectural service line might be locating in that area."

Tom Sanford, Architectural Service Line communication's manager explained, "Our line has nothing to do with appliances, but deals with open-office furniture systems like work stations, desks, etc."

Architectural services products include commercial appliances designed and installed at the actual time of construction of a new building.

Several spokesmen for Westinghouse's architectural service line in Grand Rapids, Mich. were either not available for comment or professed no knowledge of a new Mississippi plant.

Joe Patterson, media relations director at Westinghouse's headquarters, said he has no knowledge of plans to locate a plant in Mississippi.

Ron Field, also of the Westinghouse public relations department in Pittsburgh, said, "Our company has acquired property throughout the country for manufacturing or office facilities. I really don't know if a plant will be locating in your area."

However, the Business Journal article quoted Field as saying, "the company is considering locating many relatively small manufacturing facilities in the south."

He described 'small' as plants with 50 or fewer employees.

Al Wood, real estate division director for Westinghouse, was unavailable for comment this week.

Another spokesman at Westinghouse's Pittsburgh headquarters said, "Yes, we've got a number of options on several parcels of land in Mississippi and in Harrison County, but I'm not able to make a comment on whether or not we purchased any property."

are provisions for notifying the public of special and emergency meetings, the board minutes reflect.

All special meetings may be called by the board president with the approval of a majority of the board members, and notice of the meeting will be posted on a bulletin board at all district schools at least 24 hours prior to the meeting.

An emergency meeting may be called by the president at any time with notice on the bulletin boards if possible, the new policy states.

Tuesday a spokesman for U.S. Federal Magistrate John M. Roper, who is hearing the $20,000 damage suit, refused comment on the board's policy change.

To obtain a slot on the board agenda, the patron must first seek assistance from the principal of the school involved in the grievance or recommendation, according to the school board minutes.

The principal must respond to the grievance in writing or orally within two days. If the response is not satisfactory, the patron may submit the grievance to the superintendent, who must also respond within two days.

If that response is not satisfactory, the patron then is granted a position on the board's agenda, providing the request is made by the Wednesday prior to the next regular meeting.

The board meets regularly on the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at Bay Senior High.

Also included in the revised policy,

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Biloxi by the North Bay Parent-Teacher Association and the Bay St. Louis Local, American Federation of Teachers.

"It would not be in the best interest of the court to comment at this time," said David Frazier, a law clerk for Judge Roper.

Frazier added the board and the plaintiffs in the suit are "attempting to resolve the matter out of court," but refused to comment further.

Frazier also refused an opinion on whether the public announcement of the policy change at Monday's meeting violated a 'gag rule' imposed by the judge earlier this month.

Crest.....

National Space Technology Laboratories on the East Pearl River, said Wednesday high water at the site is causing an 'inconvenience' to some 40 to 50 workers in the areas of NASA headquarters and the Butler Building complex.

Herring said NASA headquarters personnel are making a detour of a few miles around high water to reach their jobs, and Butler Building personnel must be brought through high water by bus to their work sites.

The Pearl River crest in early April reached some 12.5 feet above the normal flow of the river, Herring reported, adding he expects no serious problems if today's crest peaks no higher.

Roy Baxter, Pearlington marina owner, commented, "West winds Monday and Tuesday have been wonderful in helping lower the water in Pearl River."

"On Saturday, easterly winds pushed water in Lake Borgne and the heavy local rains pushed the gauge up to 4.3 feet. The gauge registered 6.2 feet above sea level on the night of April 2 for a record reading," Baxter explained.

Baxter guesses the East Pearl River will crest today at about five feet above sea level in Pearlington.

"The reports I have been able to gather indicate it will not be quite as high as two weeks ago and I sure hope I am right. The water is moving fast in the river, it is pouring out and I hope the winds will continue pushing it out," Baxter said Tuesday.

The tornado which touched down Sunday at the Port Blenville Industrial Park near Pearlington was witnessed by Claude Pittman, a friend of Baxter's.

Pittman told Baxter he was at Jim Kelly's Fishing Camp in Pearlington. "It was massive, and I'm glad it didn't sit down again," Pittman told Baxter.

A mobile home was completely destroyed at International Demolition site in the industrial park.

Three homes received heavy damage in the Jourdan River Shores subdivision with water covering many of the roads there on Sunday.

Another twister touched down in the Bayou LaCroix Road area and destroyed a stable and did heavy damage to a garage owned by Ronald Shiyou.

The Hancock County Forestry owner at Rocky Hill in North Hancock County has registered a total of 14.46 inches of rain for the first 14 days of April, preceded by 14.6 inches in March.

The normal rain fall for Hancock County is listed as 60 inches per year. The present six-week rainfall of 29.06 is causing excessive problems to the streets and roads, according to officials here.

A. (Dolph) Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors stated Monday morning, "I do not know what we are going to do. The White Cypress bridge approaches have now been washed out three times this month."

The supervisors called a special meeting Monday morning to get started on seeking Federal aid by trying to have Governor William Winter declare Hancock County a disaster area.

Streets of Bay St. Louis and Waveland sustained heavy damage from excessive water.

Main Street in Bay St. Louis will have to be resurfaced, officials feel.

Waveland Mayor John Longo reported several streets will have to be resurfaced in that city.

"I traveled over every road Sunday, and we had a lot of water. Of course you have to realize we have had exceptional rains in recent weeks. I saw water in areas I never saw it before, even in my yard," the Waveland mayor commented.

"You know we are very lucky when you consider the heavy damages from the tornados just 20 miles from Waveland in Gulfport, and in the other direction only 20 miles with all the homes flooded in the Slidell-Pearl River area," Longo added.

Estimated damages at Stennis International Airport were reported between $175,000 to $200,000 after a tornado hit eight air planes tied down on the apron Sunday morning.

There was also damage to the hanger and a mobile home that was occupied by flight instructor Alf Sandvig during the storm.

Hancock Deputy Nathan Hode, a resident of the Texas Flat Road, said he heard the storm go through Stennis and rushed to the airport.

The Hancock County Vo-Tech Center at Stennis also sustained some damages from lightning and winds Sunday.

In severe weather earlier last weekend, Hancock County Supervisor Sam Pernicaro reported lightning struck his place of business on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, where employees said the bolt lit up the interior of the garage about 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Shop equipment was damaged in the incident, Pernicaro reported.

The Waveland Police Department also sustained damage to radio equipment as a result of nearby lightning strikes, according to Investigator Robert (Poochy) Tartavoule.

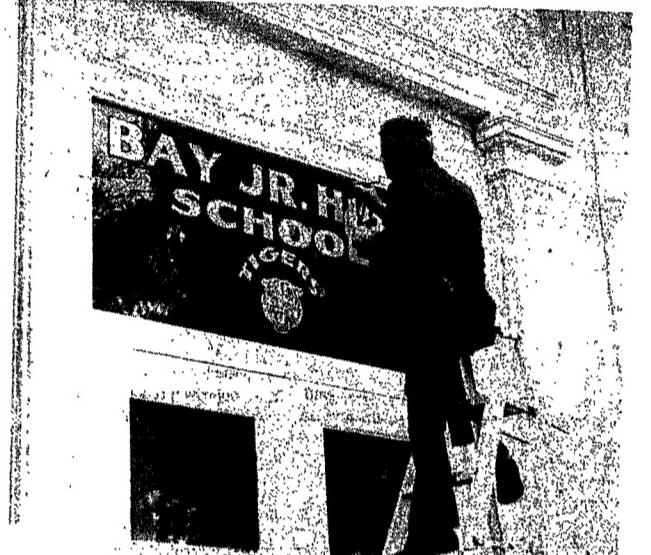

The equipment was repaired and back in service the same day (Friday), Tartavoule said.

INTERVIEWING ACCIDENT VICTIM-Officers Terry Tartavoule, left, and Barry Richardson of the Waveland Police Department question Ms. Patricia Lewis, 23, of Pass Christian, at the scene of a Sunday accident at US-90 and Waveland Avenue in which the car Ms. Lewis was driving collided with another car driven by Shannon Lamb of Pearlington. Ms. Lewis, who was treated and released at Hancock General Hospital, was cited for failure to yield right-of-way, according to Tartavoule. Majorie Lamb, 23, of Pearlington, passenger in the Lamb vehicle, sustained fractured pelvis and hip joint in the accident. She is reported in stable condition at Slidell Memorial Hospital. DISCUSSES DISASTER-The Hancock County Board of Supervisors called an emergency meeting Monday morning and voted to ask Gov. William Winter to declare the county a disaster area due to recent storm damage. Discussing county problems at the emergency meeting are, from left, Engineer

Ladner lists six roads for emergency repairs, which are Buddy Wayne Ladner, Eugene Ladner, Laverne Necaise, Wolf River and John V. Ladner Roads.

Beat Four Supervisor Sam Pernicaro said Tuesday afternoon he has not assessed all road damage resulting from recent storms, but, "Right now I'm trying to build some type of temporary bridge on Lacoste Road where the road has washed out for the second time."

"I will be seeking emergency funds to place a permanent bridge on Lacoste Road; replace a culvert on Texas Flat Road; repair a bridge and torn up roadway on B.L. Dossett Road; repair Bayou Coco Point Road which has been barricaded and has several six-foot deep washouts; repair several washouts on Old Cane Creek Road; and repair about 150 feet of undermined roadway on the beach front in Bay St. Louis."

"This is not a complete list, but after we get something done on Lacoste Road, I'll be checking all of the roads in my district," Pernicaro added.

Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca said at noon Tuesday, "I don't have anything in my district to warrant being classified as a disaster."

"We have normal weather-beaten areas and some minor washouts I feel I can handle within my budget."

However, Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis appeared at the emergency meeting and Travirca requested that Main Street be declared an emergency.

Kellar explained, "The city needs to declare the street an emergency and then we'll follow up."

Bennett replied, "I'll call a special meeting and we'll declare Main Street an emergency."

Supervisor Sam Pernicaro asked, "What about taking out that little grass area between the curb and sidewalk and maybe widening Main Street too?"

Engineer Don Murray replied, "You're looking at a big project by doing that."

Kellar reported, "The clay gravel I have is too wet to load and I need to get a truck hired to fix Catahoula."

Courrige said, "I know I have some roads that have to be repaired."

The board's attorney reiterated, "We can't make a blanket emergency, but we have to list specific problems."

Travirca said, "I have several roads with bad holes."

Gex stated, "You are suppose to identify specifically what your problem is. Declaring an emergency is to avoid advertising for bids and the accompanying time delay."

Civil Defense Director Robert (Bobby) Boudin added, "We need to show the financial position of the county."

Courrige asked Boudin, "Are you going to warn people in the Pearlington area again about the expected flooding?"

Boudin replied, "Yes, I'll work with Roy Baxter on this."

"You've got to declare an emergency pretty quick so we'll have a good chance at being declared a disaster area," Boudin said.

Kellar stated, "They always say you don't have enough damage to warrant a disaster."

The Civil Defense director reported, "Gulf Regional Planning Commission called and wanted to know how many people we had out of homes, but we just can't get an estimate like that, that quick. They wanted to bring in the Small Business Administration people."

"We would like to emphasize to the people of Hancock County to report any damage they sustained. We need to know how much damage they have and how much insurance they have. If you don't have a means of fixing your home we definitely have got to know," Boudin explained.

Director W. Wilson Webre of the County Port and Harbor Commission reported, "We had a tornado at the airport. We lost the roof on the field shack and the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution trailer exploded, but we had no damage at the permanent facility at the airport."

"The Pearl River Junior College Vo-Tech Center had some damage, but I have not gotten a dollar figure on that," Webre said.

"We sustained about $200,000 damage to airplanes at the airport and some are a total loss. Some of these planes belong to the fixed base operator and I have some anxieties about his losses," Webre stated.

"None of the new tie-down cables we recently installed at the airport failed, but the hooks holding down the damaged planes bent and pulled loose," Webre said.

"We also had a lot of barges break from their moorings at Port Blenville, but they have been secured," the director added.

Boudin asked Webre to make a complete list of damages sustained at the airport and industrial park.

Park Commission Member Mary Caillier requested the board's assistance with erosion problems along the Jourdan River at McLeod Park and invited the supervisors to a meeting at the park 9 a.m. today.

#5 of the Coastal Program Series

WE'RE BEGINNING TO SEE THE LIGHT

A frequent complaint about government is that there is too much of it - too many agencies, too much bureaucratic runaround, too much duplication of effort, and too much red tape. Both state and federal agencies are often guilty of a tunnel vision attitude that ignores the full impact of important decisions. But there may be light at the end of the tunnel.

When the Mississippi Coastal Program is complete, all agencies operating in the three coastal counties will be required by law to comply with the program. The coastal program will be the state policy guiding all agency decisions on the coast.

The policy coordination procedures in the coastal program are steps toward the development of one-stop permitting. When one-stop permitting becomes a reality, red tape and regulatory procedures should be greatly streamlined.

What is your opinion about the operation of state and federal regulatory agencies on the coast? Come to the Mississippi Coastal Program public hearing in your county and let your views be heard.

Bay school buses to remain in lot

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board in a split vote Monday rejected a recommendation by Superintendent J.D. McCullough that school buses and service trucks be parked at drivers' homes to prevent vandalism.

McCullough reported that some 535 gallons of gasoline have been stolen this year from buses parked in a fenced lot in back of Bay Junior High School, in addition to a number of tires being slashed and batteries stolen.

The superintendent recommended the board authorize bus drivers to take the buses home after daily routes, explaining the action would probably cut down on vandalism to the vehicles.

Board President Virginia Gex pointed out that the board had authorized service trucks to be taken home by administrators in the past and had received much criticism from the public.

McCullough said the Hancock County School System allows drivers to take buses home, and added the practice "is done all over."

"I further ask that some of the buses be parked by the Bay St. Louis Police Department overnight, and that all service trucks be taken home by administrators," McCullough told the board.

Board Member James Ginn questioned the proposal of placing buses behind the police station, claiming there is insufficient lighting and vandalism would continue.

Board Member Maurice Singleton suggested more lights be installed at the bus lot.

Ginn asked if insurance would cover the buses while at the drivers' homes, and Board Attorney Lucien Gex said the school system has no insurance on the buses.

The board was split in voting as Betty Diboll and Walter Turcotte favored the superintendent's proposal while Ginn and Singleton voted in opposition.

Mrs. Gex broke the stalemate by voting against the issue.

Turcotte moved to have the superintendent look into the possibility of installing additional lights at the bus lot behind the Junior High School.

In a related matter, the board accepted a bid for a school bus from Turan Lane Chevrolet of Bay St. Louis in the amount of $18,621.

Other bids received were from Charlie Henderson Ford of Bay St. Louis for $18,670 and Brantley Bus Company of Jackson in the amount of $18,279.

McCullough said acceptance of a bid should depend on delivery date of the bus, noting that the Chevrolet dealer could have the bus delivered by July 1, 1980.

McCullough said Brantley's low bid offered a Carpenter bus body, with which he is not familiar, and recommended the board accept the bid from Turan Lane.

"In reality, if we go back and look at the bids, Turan Lane is selling us a 60-gallon gasoline tank. With the price of that tank subtracted, the cost difference between Turan Lane and Brantley is only $159," McCullough told the board.

Transportation Supervisor Donald Caldwell said he has talked with a few school officials familiar with the Carpenter body, adding the Thomas body will "hold up better" than the Carpenter body.

Ginn moved to accept the Turan Lane bid, which was seconded by Diboll and approved unanimously by the board.

Tuesday, Charles Stogner, vice-president of Brantley Bus Company in Jackson, said no Gulf Coast schools have bought Carpenter bodies since his company opened recently.

"The Carpenter body has been in business for some 50 years, and is just as good, if not better, than the Thomas body but school officials here are just not familiar with our product," Stogner said.

Stogner said a transportation meeting will be conducted this week at the University of Mississippi, Gulf Park Campus in Long Beach, where he will have a Carpenter bus available for viewing on Thursday.

He added his buses are available for immediate delivery.

In other business Monday, the board approved purchase of glass for a trophy case, again by a split vote.

McCullough said two quotations were received on glass for a new trophy case, one from Southern Glass Company of Bay St. Louis in the amount of $240, and another from Bay Glass and Door Company in the amount of $260.

The superintendent reported wood and other materials for the trophy case were purchased through the district maintenance funds, and labor costs for construction of the case have not yet been received.

He added the case has already been constructed by Assistant Principal Frank Ladner and an industrial arts teacher at the senior high school.

Ginn said the board is "caught between a rock and a hard place."

"We knew nothing about the case. This is kind of an after-the-fact request," Ginn said.

McCullough said the board has been considering the new trophy case for a number of years, adding, "I just assumed you all knew about this."

"Suppose we accept this quotation for $240 and the case costs $2,000? That would be very embarrassing," Ginn said.

Ginn and Diboll voted against the purchase, and Singleton, Turcotte, and Gex voted in favor of the motion.

"We would, however, like to be informed in the future before a project is started," Gex told the superintendent.

"I agree wholeheartedly. I am sorry about this. I thought you all knew about this," McCullough said.

In other business, McCullough announced Turan Lane Chevrolet will begin charging $65 a month for use of a car for drivers education.

In the past the car had been supplied free of charge, the superintendent said, with the exception of maintenance and upkeep by the school district.

Ginn asked if McCullough had contacted any other dealers to see if they wanted to participate in the system's drivers education program.

McCullough said he had contacted all the local dealers in the past, but added none wanted to participate.

Singletor said the board should wait to check with other dealers until next year, explaining Turan Lane has supplied a car for many years and to stop using Turan Lane cars would be "unfair."

"I feel an obligation to Turan Lane too, but we are spending the taxpayers' money and it would be negligent not to see if we could get the same service cheaper or at no cost," Ginn said.

Ginn, Turcotte, and Diboll voted in favor of tabling the issue until a survey of local dealers is made.

Singletor opposed the motion.

Bay-Waveland

tour draws

500 pilgrims

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Some 500 people turned out for the 33rd Annual Spring Pilgrimage '80 tours in Bay St. Louis and Waveland Wednesday, sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs.

Pilgrimage participants toured four homes, an architect's office and a church with cool, spring temperatures under a cloudless, blue sky.

In conjunction with the local Pilgrimage, the Bay-Waveland Garden Club displayed entries and winners in its spring flower Show titled 'Open Homes—Open Hearts' in some of the Bay St. Louis homes and buildings included in the tour.

Entries in the Horticulture Division were displayed at the Garden Center on Leonard Avenue.

'Creativity Award' entries were displayed at the Wagner Home on Main Street and 'Invitational Class' entries were viewed at the Architect Fred Wagner's office, next to his home.

Police seek missing man

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Bay St. Louis Police Department is seeking information on the whereabouts of George January, 37, 120 pounds, five-foot five inches tall, light brown hair and light blue eyes.

"His family is looking for him because they haven't heard from him for over two months," Patrolman Mat Karl, of the Bay police, reported.

"A family member said January was living in the Bay area with a man named Ruiz. January has a lot of family, but nobody has heard from him," Karl reported.

"If anyone has any information they can also contact John January, 1015 Center St., Arabi, La. 70082 or call 504-271-4336," the patrolman added.

SEA COAST ECHO-THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1980-7A

Alcan plans double output

Alcan Aluminum Corporation officials in Bay St. Louis this week confirmed earlier reports in the Sea Coast Echo that the Alcan cable plant here will double its plant capacity.

Bruce Heister, president of the Alcan Cable Division in Atlanta, announced that the capacity of the Bay St. Louis plant would increase from 25 million feet of aluminum cable to 50 million feet.

Heister said this will make the Mississippi plant one of the largest producers of aluminum cable for power companies in the entire United States.

Heister said work on the expansion will begin at once and he hopes that the new expansion will be completed by 1981. Heister said total cost of the expansion will be $3.3 million.

Alcan officials stressed, however, that since the plant is the most automated in the industry, the present employment of 50 persons will not be doubled.

Even though the plant has been in operation for more than a year, officials did not dedicate the new plant until March because they wanted time to prove that the new equipment would function properly.

Landscaping adds value to home,

"MONEY TALK"

By Norine Barnes

You might change your attitude about yard work when you realize that correct landscaping adds to the value of real estate.

Doing the right thing at the right time saves dollars. Begin your landscaping process by taking soil samples from the area where you expect to plant. Soil sample boxes and directions can be secured from your Extension County Agent.

Fertilize according to the recommendations from the soil sample. A coffee can may be used to spread lime or fertilizer by making triangular holes in the lid. Too many holes will weaken the lid.

Prepare the soil before buying the plants. A continuous bed is easier to prepare and maintain than separate beds.

Make a plan on paper before investing in plants. Buying plants which require low maintenance saves time and money.

Watering can be expensive so the homeowner may want to avoid buying plants that require constant watering. Buy improved varieties that are resistant to insects and disease.

Shop around for the best deal and price. Read labels, ask the sales personnel and friends about specific plants.

Rooting instead of buying can cut costs. Most neighbors will share cuttings for you to root.

Use home-grown mulch such as leaves and pine straw. Energy-saving landscapes provide ample shade from intense summer heat. Shaded roofs, walls, walks and drives will greatly reduce heat absorption of the house in summer.

The same landscape can allow the winter sun to warm the walls and roof in the winter.

Trees on the east and northeast sides of the house provide morning shade in the summer. Trees on the west and northwest provide morning shade in the summer. Trees on the west and northwest provide shade during summer afternoons.

The heat from a southern exposure is intense in the winter. Use deciduous trees, those that lose leaves in winter, on the south side. Pine, cedar or magnolia stay green all year and would shade the house from the warm sun in the winter.

Harp Girls lead Hancock Women

The Harp Girls are in the lead of the Bowling League by four games with only five weeks to go this season.

By taking three games this week, the Harp Girls secure their lead.

The Good Times are right behind in second place with Anything Goes putting the pressure on trailing by only two games.

Carole Feigel of Anything Goes, rolled a nice 305 series this week helping her team take three games.

Ruth's Pin-Pushers picked up a new bowler, Randy Graves, who did a nice job of picking up a 7-2 split.

Donna Neacaise of that team, also had a nice 462 series.

The Lucky 7's picked up three games this week to narrow the margin between fourth and fifth place to only one game.

Shears Delight took two games this week, only one behind fifth place. Helen Carter rolled a nice 218 game.

The Trouble Shooters are in seventh place only took one game this week.

The Go-Offs taking only one game are still in eighth place. The Blankety-Banks took three games this week, only one half a game behind the Go-Offs.

The Lucky Ladies, in the cellar winning two games this week.

PAR FOR THE COURSE

GOLFERS MUST PLAY THE ENTIRE 18 Holes

The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, founded in Scotland in 1754, is responsible for establishing 18 holes as the standard for a round of golf.

Jack Nicklaus is the only golfer to win the Masters Tournament two years in a row. He accomplished the feat in 1965 and 1966.

Golf attracts more than 16 million players in the U.S., 25% of them women, who play on more than 11,000 courses.

TRAVEL AGENT FOR BIRDS

Mother Nature operates the biggest travel agency in the world.

Each year, she sends millions of wild birds on long journeys south so that they will escape the cold winter weather.

When Spring comes, the migrants move again, returning to northern sites where they live and breed in pleasant summer weather.

It's interesting to speculate on where the birds have been and how far they will go before stopping.

Some of them have come from Central America and are on their way to Alaska.

One of the earliest birds to return north to an aquatic habitat is the red winged blackbird. Recognized by its distinctive

FISH MOVEMENT

Fish are energy conscious creatures. If they don't have to move about, they usually lie still conserving their strength.

The amount of fish movement varies widely among species.

Sunfish, for example, seldom travel more than 200 feet away from their chosen homes.

On the other hand, paddlefish think nothing of traveling 50 or more miles in order to spawn.

Knowing why and when fish move about can help anglers improve their catch, according to Mercury outboards' fishing department.

The most common reason fish move is to find food.

Black bass, sedentary fish which don't travel far, move in Spring from deep water where they have wintered — to shallow water.

This occurs because the amount of both food and oxygen increases in shallow water as it warms.

Bass naturally seek the best and easiest living situation, that which uses the least energy for survival.

In Spring, many fish travel to reach spawning sites.

White bass are an example. In late March or early April, they begin moving out of lakes into streams seeking shoals where they can spawn.

The most urgent reason for fish movement is to escape danger.

Tests have shown that fish which flee in a burst of speed in order to escape capture often require several hours of rest thereafter before they regain their strength.

Knowledge of the movement patterns of your favorite sport-fish species can help you predict where fish will be at a given time.

TRAVEL AGENT FOR BIRDS

red-orange wing patch and black body, these birds arrive as soon as the weather begins to warm.

They quickly set up housekeeping in tall grass or cattails around the edges of lakes and ponds, and begin to raise new families.

Almost flying in the red winged blackbird's slipstream are ducks and geese. Although there are four major flyways in the U.S., waterfowl actually follow more than a dozen corridors as they travel, according to the Mercury outboards outdoor recreation department.

Some of them have come from Central America and are on their way to Alaska.

MEET: HENRY RONO, WORLD-CLASS LONG DISTANCE RUNNER

Sport Billy: At a recent meet in Vienna, Austria, you ran the 10,000 meters in 27:25. It looked like a fast training run rather than a world record breaking attempt. And in the 5,000 meter race you just missed the world mark despite a slow first round of 69 seconds.

Rono: Yes, I agree with you. I could have run the 10,000 better that day and I wanted to run a 13:06 instead of my 13:08.4 in the 5,000. Sometimes you're faster on other days.

Sport Billy: Do you train by any particular methods?

Rono: No, none at all. I keep everything in my head. I never plan more than 72 hours in advance. How can I anticipate whether it will rain or shine or be hot or cold? My training program is only decided upon at the last minute.

Sport Billy: So you consider yourself a natural runner than one who doesn't follow conventional training rules?

Rono: You might say that. I know that white runners write everything down and always know from one day to the next what they will be doing in two months' time. To us Africans this is quite humorous.

Sport Billy: Well, apparently your methods have some validity to them — you were chosen "Sportsman of the Year" for 1979 by AIPS (the international sports press association) and awarded the Sport Billy Trophy.

Rono: Yes, I am very pleased. The trophy is now on display at my home in Pullman, Wash.

Music forum begins today at Ole Miss

American music mirrors American culture, says a University of Mississippi professor who has spent years studying the relationship between folk music and the lives of people who produce it.

"Music is more than entertainment. When you start talking about folk music, you're talking about people's lives," says Dr. William Ferris, director of the University's Center for the Study of Southern Culture.

"The Carl Perkins song 'Blue Suede Shoes,' for example, is a fundamental statement about growing up poor and not having shoes. When sociologists talk about poverty, they do it with numbers and statistics. But someone who knows the culture of poverty seized on something simple like shoes to express what it's like to be poor. Carl Perkins touched something in people's lives with that song," Ferris continued.

"You could say the same thing about Yiddish folk songs or the Polish polka. The music that we create is very deeply connected with our culture."

Dr. Ferris is bringing together musicians and scholars from throughout the United States and from Europe to explore that idea in a forum and series of concerts scheduled for April 17-19 at Ole Miss.

All sessions of the event, which is being held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Mississippi Folklore Society, are open to the public.

Among more than 40 speakers for the meeting are writer Amiri Baraka (Leroi Jones); British critic A. L. Lloyd; Alan Jabour, director of the American Folklore Center of the Library of Congress; Robert Palmer, music critic of The New York Times; and Ralph Rinzler, director of the Smithsonian Institution's folklife program. "Discussions will cover the entire range of American music from Jewish-American popular music to gospel and honky-tonk country," Dr. Ferris said. "The performances, however, reflect styles of folk music most often associated with the South. Evening concerts during the conference will be by Bill Mitchell, a national fiddle champion and former Mississippi sheriff; John Arnold and the Duck Hill Billies, a group that is considered one of nation's best-known folk bands; and James "Son" Thomas, a Delta blues performer who has been the subject of numerous documentary films and television presentations."

"We hope this conference will give people a deeper appreciation of the music that is so much a part of their lives.

This music has a global significance. It may well be the greatest single cultural force generated in America. People from cultures very different from our own and who know little about the United States know American music."

The conference opens with a concert by Bill Mitchell at 8 p.m. tonight.

Topics for discussion during the day on Friday are folk music in Britain, ethnic contributions (including Jewish-American and Slovenian styles) and religious music (including the

Conservation workshop

deadline approaches

A limited number of vacancies are available to teacher applicants for Mississippi Forestry Association's 17th annual Teachers Conservation Workshop this summer.

A session will be conducted from the Perkinson Campus, Gulf Coast Junior College on June 9-13. This workshop is also co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education, Mississippi State University, University of Southern Mississippi, and the Mississippi State Department of Education.

Teachers may attend the course for credit or non-credit. Academic credit earned from attending the workshop is applicable to renewal of teacher's licenses.

Applicants for these limited number of vacancies will be accepted on a "first come, first served" basis. Deadline date for receiving applications in the MFA office is April 28.

All food and lodging expenses for teachers attending the workshop will be paid by Mississippi industries and businesses which are financial supporters of the workshop. The only expense for teachers will be tuition costs for academic credit.

Applications should be mailed to MFA at 620 North State Street, Jackson, Mississippi 39201.

Communicative disorders state's top handicap

One out of ten persons in Mississippi suffers from a speech, language or hearing impairment, making communicative disorders the state's number one handicapping disability.

Senator Thad Cochran is lending his public support to a campaign sponsored by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) to increase public awareness of communicative disorders and of the professional help available in Mississippi.

"Most people with speech, language or hearing disorders can be helped," said Cochran, "if the problem is recognized and treated promptly."

According to ASHA, the 35,000 member non-profit society of speech-language pathologists and audiologists, many people with communicative disorders suffer needlessly because they don't know where to turn for help. Nationally, over $1.75 billion in earnings are lost each year due to communicative disorders.

Professional help is available. For information, write the Mississippi Speech and Hearing Association, Box 5361, Fondren Station, Jackson, MS 39216.

#6 of the Coastal Program Series

INDUSTRY OR THE ENVIRONMENT?

It's a difficult decision. Fortunately, we don't have to choose one or the other. With good planning and environmental controls, we can enjoy both the economic advantages of industry and the quality of life that comes with a good environment. The Mississippi Coastal Program is designed to strike this balance between industry and the environment.

The program designates seven areas for industrial and port development. Long range planning funded through the program will encourage industrial development in these designated areas, while it directs development away from areas that are to be preserved for their environmental quality.

Even with good planning, development has its limits, particularly when it comes to waterfront industrial development. Mississippi's shoreline has limited access to navigable water for industrial development. Creating new waterfront industrial sites will be costly, both financially and environmentally. Because of this limitation, it is critical for the coast to manage its waterfront industrial sites and reserve them for industries that require water access. The coastal program does this with regulations governing the development of waterfront industrial sites.

What do you think about industry and the environment? Come to the Mississippi Coastal Program public hearings and let us hear your ideas.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CAUSE NO. 14,899

In response to the growing need for better management of the state's marine resources, the Mississippi Coastal Program, in compliance with the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended, is being developed. The proposed program involves wetlands and fisheries management, area enhancement efforts, areas of special importance and State and Federal policy coordination in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties.

The Bureau of Marine Resources will hold a Public Hearing to receive comments on the proposed Mississippi Coastal Program at 7:30 p.m. at the following locations on the appointed date:

April 21, 1980 - Jackson County Courthouse, Board of Supervisors Room, Pascagoula, Jackson County, Mississippi

Copies of the proposed program document are available at the Bureau of Marine Resources on the Gulf Park Campus of the University of Southern Mississippi, Long Beach, Mississippi. (Phone 654-602) or may be examined at the following libraries: Hancock County, Harrison County, Main Biloxi, Ocean Springs or Pascagoula. In addition, appendices containing copies of relevant statutes and legal opinions are available for $5.00 to cover copying cost.

You are invited to attend said hearing and to present oral and written comments about the proposed Mississippi Coastal Program. A taped recording of the hearings will be made to insure accuracy in documenting comments; however, a written transcript will not be prepared. The hearing record will remain open until May 1, 1980.

WITNESS: my hand this the 18th day of March, 1980.

Area Cub Scouts set recruit drive

Boys who are at least 7½ years old and who will complete the second grade this spring are the objects of a "Bobcat Hunt" by the New Orleans Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of the "Bobcat Hunt" is to encourage boys from 7½ to 10 years of age to join Cub Scouting which is celebrating its 50th anniversary during 1980.

"Each cub scout pack throughout the New Orleans Area Council, including Hancock County, will be looking for new members in April and May," according to Robert Eckart, Jr., cub scouting vice president.

"By joining at this time, boys will be able to get involved with the pack's summertime fun and with other activities planned during this anniversary year."

Cub Scouting is a family-centered educational program that offers boys effective character, citizenship, and personal fitness training.

Among the features of the Cub Scout program are weekly den meetings, monthly pack meetings with families, an advancement plan, outdoor activities, and competitive events and sports.

For additional information about the program, the New Orleans Area Council, parents should contact the Council Service Center, at 847-0780.

"The 30 millionth Cub Scout will be registered during 1980, and naturally it is exciting to think that might possibly be registered in the New Orleans Area Council," Eckart said.

In other years, as the "R-less" months of late Spring and Summer approached, the good Creole housewives of New Orleans would serve oysters more often than usual to make up for the lack of oysters at these times, in the belief that oysters were not good from May through August.

Lack of modern refrigeration undoubtedly had much to do with this theory, for many of us now enjoy oysters the year round, with never thought of the "R's."

One of the tastiest oyster dishes I've enjoyed from childhood - I suppose it's a combination of goodness and nostalgia - is Baked Stuffed Oysters, which were usually served at our house in freshly-scrubbed oyster shells, with a whole oyster nestled in each shell, surrounded by a marvelous sort of "dressing," so here's:

BAKED

STUFFED OYSTERS
2 dozen oysters, chopped into small pieces (Either add the additional whole oysters, or reserve some of your 2 dozen, if you want to serve the dish that way. Otherwise, chop them all up.)

1 cup finely chopped onions
½ cup finely chopped green onions

½ cup parsley, chopped
½ cup celery, chopped
Piece of stale French bread, about 1-3 loaf or several inches long

½ stick of butter or margarine
Dashes of Tabasco and Worcestershire sauce to taste
Salt and pepper to taste
¼ tsp. tyme (powdered)

1 cup seasoned bread crumbs mixed with ½ cup melted butter

Melt the butter in a heavy skillet over medium heat, add onions, green onions, celery and parsley and saute for just a couple of minutes.

Meanwhile soak the bread in the oyster water, then squeeze the chopped oysters and seasonings and cook over low heat, stirring, for about five minutes, or until the mixture begins to dry a bit - not too much!

Remove from fire and

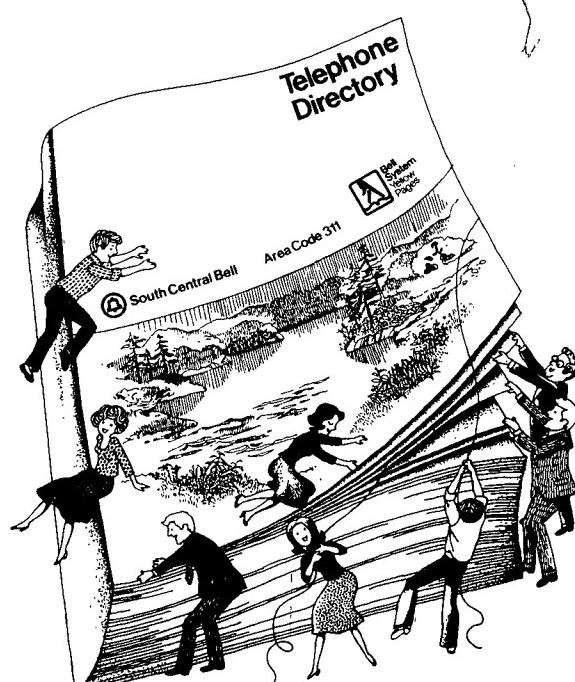

By .Katy McGuire Caire

check seasoning. If you're using oyster shell or ramekins, just pack the mixture into the shells and top with the buttered bread crumbs, bake in a 350 degree oven for 20 to 30 minutes, or until tops are lightly browned. If you prefer, pack the mixture into a buttered casserole dish and top with the crumbs, baking till lightly browned.

And remember, if you're adding the touch of the whole oysters, just put an oyster in the bottom of each shell, sort of mix into the dressing, top with crumbs and bake.

Five tornados, floods damage Hancock County

Hancock Deputy Nathan Hoda views destroyed Agcat at airport

THIS WAS A STABLE—Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shiyu survey pile of debris which was stable for two Shetland ponies which somehow knew enough to get out before the structure was destroyed by tornado Sunday. Mrs. Shiyu reported that she and eight children ages 2-16 were in the center of the house when the twister passed over their home. Shiyu, who was sitting at a kitchen window, said the sky darkened and he could see his ponies getting very excited and acting strange, then a sheet of rain slammed into the side of his house, and ball stones danced about like snowflakes in the powerful winds.

WEATHERS STORM—Ali Sandvig, flight instructor at Stennis Airport, was in his mobile home at the field Sunday morning when tornado struck airport at 7:35 a.m. Sandvig was shaken as storm knocked trailer from supporters and as planes were strung about airport. A total of eight planes were damaged with estimates from $175,000 to $200,000 given on airport plus some damage to Stennis' big hanger.

Confederate Unknown Soldier

to be enshrined at Beauvoir

A Confederate soldier discovered on the battlefield in which he was killed in action will have final burial after 117 years and will be dedicated and enshrined as the Unknown Soldier of the Confederate States of America at Beauvoir, Jefferson Davis Shrine Saturday, April 19.

Ceremonies begin at 2:00 p.m., with the general public invited to be present at the Beauvoir Cemetery.

The remains of the unknown Confederate soldier were found on a Mississippi battlefield of the 1863 Vicksburg Campaign by Richard V. Forte of Hattiesburg on private property.

The accoutrements found with the bones identify the subject as a young man of approximately seventeen or eighteen years of age carrying the basic Confederate infantry trappings.

No attempt will be made to identify the soldier's unit or state, nor will the location be identified in keeping with the symbolism desired in the unknown soldier status as he is to be enshrined at the Unknown Soldier of the thirteen Confederate States of America and its claimed territories.

Unknown Confederate soldiers are buried in mass or individually across the nation on or near battle sites where they fell. There has never, to date, been one Unknown Confederate Soldier dedicated to that group who died bearing arms in defense of the C.S.A. in the bloody conflict of 1861-65.

The suggestion of a proper Christian burial for the soldier came from Forte, who discussed the matter with officials of the Mississippi Division, Sons of Confederate Veterans, the owners of Beauvoir, the last home of President Jefferson Davis on the beach here.

The Beauvoir cemetery has over seven hundred graves of former patients at the Jefferson Davis Soldier's Home which operated from 1903 until 1956 with Confederate veterans and widows.

Permission being granted by the Shrine's Board of Directors, joint sponsorship of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was sought from the Sons of Confederate Veterans, the Military Order of the Stars and Bars, Dallas, Texas; and the President-General of the Children of the Confederacy all are included representing their respective national organizations on the commission.

Ceremonies will begin with a concert by the Gulfport Municipal Band at 2:00 p.m., and the general public is invited to use the west arched entrance to the Beauvoir Cemetery on Beauvoir Avenue.

A marshalling of the colors of the States of the Confederacy follows with the procession of the coffin containing the remains.

In addition to the band, music will also be furnished by the Biloxi High School Chorus.

Religious rites will be held under the direction of the Rev. Jackson C. Biggers, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Biloxi, and Martin Johnson, Chaplain-General of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars and Roman Catholic lay leader of Mobioe.

The master of ceremonies will be Major General McCain. Appropriate military salutes will be rendered by War Between the States reenactment groups firing cannons and muskets alternately.

The coffin used for the ceremony is a replica made from a mid-nineteenth century coffin exhumed in LeFlore County in 1978. As was the original, it is of cypress and made in the traditional shape to fit the body.

It was constructed at the Jefferson Davis Shrine by employees following a pattern furnished from the Mississippi Archives and History Department in Jackson.

Zero-plus dialing

begins here Friday

A new, electronically controlled telephone service that will speed the placing of operator assisted long distance calls, is coming to Bay St. Louis 467, NSTL 688-689 and Pearl River 531-533.

Franklin Kyle, District Manager of South Central Bell Telephone Company, said the new service, called zero-plus dialing, will begin operation on April 19, 1980.

"This new system will cut down considerably the time it takes a person to place a long distance call when operator services are needed," Kyle said.

It will also free operators from the more routine aspects of handling long distance calls and will offer them more opportunity to give more personal service to telephone customers, he said.

The equipment will allow customers to dial person-to-person, credit card, collect and special billing calls from coin and non-coin telephones equipped for new service, the customer must first dial "O" and follow it immediately with the area code, if necessary, and then the number he is calling.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith and daughter Leigh of New Orleans spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cardin.

Mr. and Mrs. Nellie Rhodes Jr. and children Nellie III, Mary Beth, Michelle and Karen and Becky Border of Jackson, Miss., spent the weekend with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Scafidi and children Jennifer and John of Pensacola, Fla., have returned home after a visit with his mother Mrs. Bernice Scafidi.

It features a computer-type mine the status of calls, Kyle said. In addition, the system can diagnose many of its own operating difficulties.

JAPAN ASSIGNMENT: Senior Airman Joann M. True, the former Joann Margaret Bourgeois, Waveland native, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Bourgeois of Waveland, and her husband Staff Sergeant Steven D. True of Sacramento, Calif., recently visited her parents in Waveland. The Air Force couple last week began a three-year assignment together with the 156th Command Group at Yokota Air Base, Japan. Sr. A Bourgeois is a 1976 graduate of Bay St. Louis Senior High School.

Confederacy, Yazoo City; Robert B. Wilson, Jr., Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, Little Rock, Arkansas; Dr. Ralph W. Widener, Commander-in-Chief of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars, Dallas, Texas; and the President-General of the Children of the Confederacy all are included representing their respective national organizations on the commission.

Ceremonies will begin with a concert by the Gulfport Municipal Band at 2:00 p.m., and the general public is invited to use the west arched entrance to the Beauvoir Cemetery on Beauvoir Avenue.

Literary Festival scheduled at MUW written by Daniel Young.

Other topics to be discussed during the 1980 Southern Literary Festival are "The Creative Principle," and "Can Creative Writing Be Taught?" The response will be given by Jack Crocker, James Whithead, James E. Hitt and Elizabeth Sarcone.

Dr. Thomas Daniel Young, professor of English at Vanderbilt University, will open Friday's general assembly with a lecture on "The Relationship of Past and Present."

That afternoon he will serve as moderator for a panel discussion on "The Renaissance in Southern Literature, 1922-1945."

Members of the panel will be:

Andrew Nelson Lytle, whose works include a Civil War biography about "Bedford Forrest and His Critter Company, and two famous short stories titled "Jericho, Jericho" and "Mister McGregor."

James Whitehead, author of the novel "Joiner" and recent winner of the Breadloaf award for a volume of poems, "Domains."

Dr. Evans B. Harrington, chairman of the English Department of the University of Mississippi and author of a novel "The Prisoners," and James Edwards Hitt who completed 10 years of writing "Tennessee Smith" after retiring as English teacher at Baylor School in Chattanooga, Tenn.

James Hitt is the brother of Dr. Ralph Hitt, president of the Southern Literary Festival and head of the English Department at M.U.W.

Dr. Hitt explained the purpose of the Festival is to inspire and maintain interest in creative writing among undergraduate students in Southern colleges.

Sixteen years ago, he recalled, the Festival was hosted at M.U.W. Among participants was the late John Crowe Ransom, one of America's most distinguished critics and men of letters.

"Gentlemen in a Dustcoat" is a biography of Ransom

A MAN, A WOMAN AND A BANK

Donald Sutherland's an aspiring con man. Paul Mazursky's a literary genius. The victim—a bank, the weapon, a computer. Count on fun from this unlikely combo. Brooke Adams co-stars.
